The HCG School of Digital Arts at Shepherd University is located in Los Angeles, right next to Hollywood, where the global industries of filmmaking and digital content are concentrated. Universal Studios, Disney Interactive, DreamWorks, Paramount, Sony Pictures, Blizzard, Riot Games, and countless more are located here.

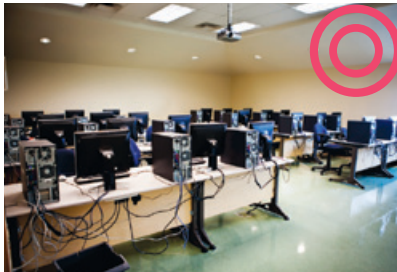

It's a perfect atmosphere for an education based on the latest technology and practical work experience.

With a special concentration on producing digital entertainment content, HCG School of Digital Arts will help you become a qualified and talented professional ready to succeed in the entertainment industry.

Learn From Working Professionals

Our professors have worked with DreamWorks, Disney Interactive, Sony Pictures Imageworks, Twentieth Century Fox, Nickelodeon Animation Studios, and Warner Brothers on many projects including Transformers 3, Star Wars Episode 1(3D), Kung Fu Panda, 2012, X-Men: First Class, Fantastic 4, Shrek, Wanted, Matrix, Need For Speed, Final Fantasy, and many more.

Project Oriented Education & High Quality Portfolio Production

Our lectures are concentrated towards actual work to produce graduates with competitive skills. To educate talented people and get them ready to work immediately after graduation, we offer a project oriented education that offers exciting opportunities for top students. Students can increase practical, cutting edge skills through such a practical curriculum.

The "reel" or personal portfolio is part of the resume in VFX & Animation, Game Art & Design. HCG School of Digital Arts strengthens the students' job opportunities by supporting them in producing a high quality portfolio that reflects their personal ability.

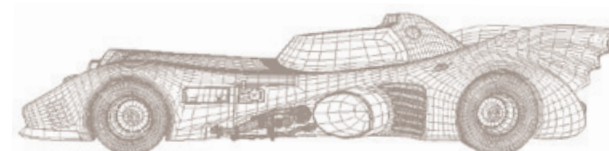

Collaboration with Music Program

We offer a distinguished joint curriculum between the HCG School of Digital Arts and the Cornel School of Contemporary Music at Shepherd University. You can enhance visual artwork and improve portfolio quality through learning from film scoring and music production professors.

High Tech Facilities & Equipment

Shepherd University provides a modern educational environment with high tech facilities including VFX & animation lab, game art & design lab, computer labs, recording studio, cinematic studio, production studio, group study rooms, project rooms, 350 seat auditorium, and high tech equipment.
